ACS Distance Education have recently written and released a new 20- hour short course on Land Degradation, Restoration and Management.

Our 20 hour courses are a great way to get a snapshot of a topic and start to get an understanding of the area in your own time.

Sustainable land management is the key to preserving our natural resources in a healthy state for the enjoyment of all - for cultural, social, and recreational pursuits as well as for agricultural and other commercial uses, now and into the future. Where land has been degraded or its use is not sustainable, rehabilitation is required to improve or restore the land to good health and ensure future sustainability.

This course covers seven lessons including the scope and nature of land management, land degradation and rehabilitation, managing soils, managing water, managing plants, managing animal populations, maintenance and natural regeneration.
